"My 4 year-old son loves my chakra stones. He sleeps with the malachite, quartz, and amethyst under his pillow. The other night, I gave him a blue bath to calm him down for bed (like you suggested) and it works like a charm. He slept like a big boy. We are all better for it. Thanks for the great advice and colour products."

Holistic Biofeedback

The Biopulsar-Reflexograph®, is an holistic biofeedback system that gives scientific colour information and interpretation for the bio-energetic information of 45 human parts; the full body electromagnetic field and seven major energy centers (chakras). These devices reveal the role of the client's psychology in their health condition and provide a detailed, colour-coded analysis.

This is the first biofeedback imaging technology that duplicates the full body colour aura of the human energy field utilizing the information from more than 140 measuring stations on the system's hand plate. The system then displays the vitality of 45 body parts, including 9 brain parameters. Illustrated on-screen formats include organ graphs, a colour analysis of the reflex zones, full and half body bio-field pictures, and chakra analysis.

The Bio-field (Aura)

The bio-field (aura) is one's life force, the electromagnetic field of energy that emanates from all living beings. Its symbols and colors constitute a blueprint of one's soul and a chart of one's potential.

The system's hand plate accommodates three sizes, men, women and child. Every sensor corresponds to a (body organ) reflexology zone on the left palm. The sensor electrodes gather the biofeedback data which is then processed and translated into the computer program. This information is printed out for the client....Check out www.biopulsar.com
